SELECTED PROJECTS

Master's Thesis — GIS Analysis of TOD Potential, Philadelphia

In progress, 2026

- Built a four-dimensional GIS model in ArcGIS Pro evaluating transit-oriented development potential across all fixed-rail station areas, integrating land use, transit connectivity, social equity, and pedestrian-network data.
- Edited, analyzed, and visualized spatial data from GTFS, U.S. Census ACS, city open data, OpenStreetMap, and Vision Zero — 20 variables, entropy weighting, and K-means clustering — to map underperforming areas and produce recommendations.

Urban Recalibration — Callowhill, Philadelphia

- Developed a district-scale redevelopment framework and public-space strategy as a team project, translating site analysis into design concepts, diagrams, and renderings.

Pedestrian Safety & Walkability — Ridge Avenue, Roxborough

2025

- Combined GIS analysis with field observation and community engagement to assess pedestrian safety along a key corridor and recommend transportation and streetscape improvements.
